Campbell's Have an Excellent Circus.

The circus that thing of beauty and everlasting joy of the small boy, and to an extent of every person with a youthful heart, has come and gone. The weather man who has been somewhat unkind to the Campbell Bros.

since the theatre came to Canada, was in better humor yesterday.

The result was that the attendance was good and everything passed off as well regulated circuses pass. And the circus deserved both the favors of the weather man and the patronage of the Calgary public. It is a real circus and there is nothing missing. With the merry sound of the barkers, the performance of the artists, the funny antics of the clowns and the smell of the animals from the tent beyond and you find that everything is there.

The performance is a very interesting one. There is nothing in it from beginning to end that is at all risky or immodest.

Perhaps the most unique feature of the circus was the riding of the Cossacks—real Russian Cossacks right from the Czar which was very delightful. The acrobat work was fine and there was lots of it. It was not too much drawn out and was put on in a bunch. There was a feast while it lasted.

The trained animals were very good. There were not as many horses as in some circuses but riding becomes monotonous and the Campbell Bros. have evidently found this out. What riding there was was of the best.

The animals and dogs were well trained. The menagerie was interesting.

In a sentence, the circus was almost as good as advertised, and that is the best that can be said of any circus.—Morning Alberta, Calgary, Canada, Jan 30.

Frank A. Manzaneros received this week a "Little Yankee" for use in leveling up his alfalfa farm and incidentally for grading roads. If you have any "leveling" to be done, call on Frank. He is the territory agent for this machine, which is one of the best made. If you want a machine for these purposes you can not get one that will do as good work for the price, one hundred and fifty dollars.

The Arizona Railroad Commission has already done great work in reducing freight rates and fares on the Arizona Railroads.

The last legislature attempted to pass such a bill in New Mexico and the House did pass the bill providing for a Commission, but the railroad lawyers in the Council would not have it.

The chances are that the people of this territory will learn some day that their interests are not properly looked after by the Corporation lawyers.

L. A. McDonald of Yesso was brought down here for medical treatment suffering with a well developed case of typhoid fever.

Died on the 12th of September, 1909, Mrs. Robert Childs, aged 23 years, of typhoid fever.

Death of J. J. Hagerman, at Milan.

J. J. Hagerman, of Roswell, N. M., died late Monday night at Milan, Italy. Mr. Hagerman was for many years a prominent capitalist of New Mexico and Colorado, the builder of the Colorado Midland and the Pecos Valley railroads.

A brief message from Colorado Springs announced the passing of the man to whom, more than any other, belongs the credit for the development of the Pecos Valley of New Mexico and whose name will remain permanently if not as the discoverer, as the man whose brains and indomitable energy transformed one great stretch of the desert into a garden spot.

No details of Mr. Hagerman's death could be obtained from Roswell, but it is known that it was sudden and unexpected. His son, former Governor H. J. Hagerman had expected to leave Roswell for New York within a few weeks to meet his father. Mrs. Hagerman accompanied him to Europe some months ago and was with him in Milan.

Lacking any definite information it is presumed the remains will be brought back to this country.

Yesso is having an epidemic of typhoid fever.

Dr. W. R. Lovene made a professional call to Yesso Monday.

Miss Bernice Womeldorf has accepted a position as stenographer in the office of Manager VanHecke, of the Fort Sumner Land and Development Co.

Mr. N. H. Sledge is again in our midst after a years absence.

Mr. E. A. Gustafson left Monday for Roswell after a stay of about three months here.

Mrs. M. A. Rooney has been ill for several days but is now up and around.

New Variety of Beans.

L. R. (Dick) Schuch has a new and strange variety of bean that was grown on his valley ranch. The beans are a bluish gray in color, rather flat and with a wrinkled skin. The vine grew to a height of twenty inches and Mr. Schuch says it bore 162 pods. None of our expert gardeners (and we have some good ones here) have been able to name it so far.
